- (d) An employee who has been directed by his employer to proceed to construction work on a distant job may after three months' continuous service thereon, and thereafter at three-monthly periods of continuous service thereon, return to his home at a week-end. If he does so, he shall be paid the amount of a second-class return railway fare on the pay-day which immediately follows the date on which he returns to the job, provided no delay not agreed to by the employer takes place in connexion with the employee's commencing of work on the morning of the working day following the week-end.

Provided however that if the work upon which the employee is engaged will terminate in the ordinary course within a further twenty-eight days after the expiration of any such period of three months as is hereinbefore mentioned then the provisions of this sub-clause shall not be applicable.

(a) Subject to the provisions of sub-clauses (c) and (d) hereof a period of fourteen consecutive days exclusive of any public holidays occurring during the period shall be allowed as leave annually to all employees after twelve months' continuous service (less the period of annual leave) with an employer. Unless otherwise mutually agreed upon between an employer and the employee concerned, in which case the leave shall be given and taken within three months of its becoming due, such leave shall be given and taken in conjunction with the Christmas and New Year holidays.

(b) If after eighty-eight hours' continuous service, excluding overtime, in any qualifying twelve-monthly period an employee leaves his employment or his employment is terminated by the employer, the employee shall be paid one-thirteenth of a week's wage in respect of each completed eighty-eight hours of continuous service in respect of which leave has not been granted hereunder.

(c) Where an employee absents himself from work during any qualifying period of service for any reason other than a reason set out in sub-clause (d) hereof, the amount of leave or payment in lieu to which he would otherwise be entitled under sub-clauses (a) or (b) hereof shall be reduced by one-fiftieth for each week or part thereof during which any such absence occurs.

(d) For the purposes of this clause service shall be deemed to be continuous notwithstanding an employee's absence from work for any of the following reasons:—

- (ii) stand off for the period of leave any employee who has not then qualified for fourteen consecutive days' leave and pay him pro rata for the leave for which he has qualified on the basis of one-thirteenth of a week's wages in respect of each eighty-eight hours of continuous service (exclusive of overtime) during his current qualifying twelve-monthly period.

PART II.

Employees engaged otherwise than at building construction work—

(a) Subject to the provisions hereinafter in this Part of this clause contained, a period of fourteen consecutive days' leave with payment of wages at the ordinary rates of payment shall be allowed annually to an employee by his employer after a period of twelve months' continuous service (less such period of leave) with such employer.

(b) If any holiday to which an employee is entitled in pursuance of clause 12 of this Determination occurs within any such period of leave and is observed on a day which in the case of the employee would otherwise have been an ordinary working day there shall be added to that period one day, being an ordinary working day, for each such holiday observed as aforesaid: Provided that an employee shall not be entitled to have any such addition as aforesaid made to the period of his leave if, except for reasonable cause (proof whereof shall be upon him) he fails to resume work immediately following the period comprising his period of leave (extended by any such intervening holiday or holidays) and remains at work thereafter for the number of working days equivalent to the number of such holidays.

(c) Such leave shall be given at a time fixed by the employer within a period not exceeding six months from the date when the right to such leave accrued and after not less than fourteen days' notice to the employee.

(d) Such leave shall be allowed and shall be taken and except as provided by sub-clause (e) of this Part of this clause payment shall not be made or accepted in lieu thereof.

(e) If after one month's continuous service in any qualifying period an employee lawfully leaves his employment or it is terminated by the employer through no fault of the employee, the employee shall be entitled to be paid as for a day's work at his ordinary rate of payment in respect of each completed month of continuous service in respect of which leave has not been taken in pursuance of this part of this clause.

(f) An employee before commencing such leave shall be paid two weeks' wages. For the purposes of this sub-clause and sub-clauses (e) and (h) of this Part of this clause payment shall be at the rate prescribed by clause 2 of this Determination for the work at which the employee was ordinarily employed immediately prior to the commencement of such leave or to the leaving or termination of the employment as the case may be.

(g) An employer may allow such leave to an employee before the right thereto has accrued but where leave has been taken in such a case the qualifying period for further leave shall not commence to accrue until the expiration of the twelve months in respect of which the leave so allowed was taken.

- (h) Where leave has been allowed pursuant to sub-clause (g) of this Part of this clause and the employee subsequently leaves or is discharged from the service of the employer before completing the twelve months' continuous service in respect of which the leave was allowed in advance the employer may for each complete month of the qualifying period of twelve months not served by the employee deduct from whatever remuneration is payable upon the termination of the employment the equivalent of payment as for a day's work at his ordinary rate of payment.
- (i) Subject to the provisions of sub-clauses (j) and (k) of this Part of this clause continuity of service shall be deemed not to have been broken by—
- (i) any interruption or determination of the employment by the employer if such interruption or determination has been made with the intention of avoiding obligations in respect of the allowance of leave;
 - (ii) any absence on account of leave granted to or imposed upon the employee;
 - (iii) any absence from work not exceeding fourteen days in a qualifying period of twelve months on account of sickness or accident;
 - (iv) any absence due to reasonable cause (other than as set out in (i), (ii) or (iii) above) proof whereof shall be on the employee.
- (j) In calculating a period of twelve months' continuous service—
- (1) (a) any annual leave taken therein,
 - (b) any absences of the kinds mentioned in (i) or (iii) of sub-clause (i) of this Part of this clause shall be counted as part of such period;
 - (2) in case of absences of the kinds mentioned in (ii) or (iv) of the said sub-clause (i) the employee shall serve such additional period as part of his qualification for annual leave as will equal the period of such absences.
- (k) In the case of an employee being unable to attend for work for any cause mentioned in (iii) or (iv) of sub-clause (i) of this Part of this clause he shall within 24 hours of the time when he was due to attend for work, unless it be impracticable for him to do so and then as soon as it is practicable, notify the employer in writing of the cause of his absence and the probable duration thereof. In default of doing so his absence may be regarded by the employer as having broken the continuity of his service. Upon the employee notifying the employer as aforesaid of the cause and probable duration of his absence he shall be deemed not to have broken the continuity of his service: Provided nevertheless that if the employer within fourteen days of the receipt of the employee's notification notifies the employee in writing delivered to him personally or sent by pre-paid post to his last recorded place of residence that he regards the absence as having broken the continuity of service the question may within fourteen days of receipt of the employer's notification by the employee be at the instance of the employee referred to the Wages Board which shall decide the matter. Failing such notification by the employer as aforesaid the absence shall be deemed not to have broken the continuity of service. If however such notification is made aforesaid by the employer and the employee fails within fourteen days of its receipt to have the matter referred to the Wages Board then the absence shall be deemed to have broken the continuity of service.
- (l) For the purposes of this Part of this clause a month shall be reckoned as commencing with the beginning of the first day of the employment or period of employment in question or the day of the period in question bearing the same date number as that day and as ending at the beginning of the day which in the latest month in question has the same date number as that which the commencing day had in its month and if there be no such day in such subsequent month it shall be reckoned as ending at the end of such subsequent month.
- (m) Where the employer is a successor, assignee or transferee of a business, if the employee was in the employment of the employer's predecessor in that business at the time when the employer became such successor, assignee or transferee the employee shall in respect of the period during which he was in the employment of such predecessor be for the purposes of this Part of this clause deemed to have been in the employment of the employer.
- (n) Continuous service since the 31st day of December, 1945, until the date of the coming into operation of this Determination shall be counted as part of a qualifying period for the purposes of this Part of this clause of this Determination.

RIGHT OF ENTRY OF UNION OFFICIAL.

28. The Wages Board may authorize an official of the Union (to be named by it), and thereupon such official shall have the right in accordance with the terms of such authorization, to enter any place where work is being carried on under this Determination subject to the following conditions:—

- (ii) the authorization shall state the time at which the entry is authorized. Such time may be any reasonable time;
- (iii) the purpose of the entry if authorized during working hours shall be confined to interviewing the appointed representative of the Union in the place mentioned in the authorization, or with the consent of the employer or his foreman of interviewing any member of the Union employed therein; or if authorized during a meal hour or at a non-working time of interviewing any workman engaged at the place, who is willing to be interviewed.

- (b) Before entering any such place the official shall produce the authorization to the employer or his foreman;
- (c) If an employer alleges that an official is unduly interfering with the work of the job or is causing disaffection among the employees thereon or is offensive in his manner or is committing a breach of any of the conditions set out in this clause, such employer may refuse to allow the official to enter into or to remain on the place, but the official shall have the right to bring such a refusal to the attention of the Chairman of the Wages Board who may either cancel the authorization or refer the matter to the Wages Board.

NOTE.—(1) The disabilities allowance referred to in section A above is to compensate for conditions peculiar to building construction work, namely, working in the open and being thereby subjected to climatic conditions, dusty conditions (i.e., from dust blowing in the wind) brick dust, drippings from concrete, sloppy conditions, lack of usual amenities associated with factory work, e.g., meal rooms, change rooms, lockers, &c., and to compensate for relative handicaps occasioned by the reduction of the standard working hours in industry generally from 48 to 44 hours per week and for all other matters not specifically compensated or allowed for by any other provision of this clause 2 of this Determination.

(2) The calculation of the hourly rate prescribed in this clause takes account of loss of earnings by employees engaged by the hour due to the occurrence of any of the holidays mentioned in clause 12 of this Determination, the non-application to such employees of the benefits of clause 23 of this Determination and the incidence of loss of wages for periods of unemployment between jobs.
