- (ii) in all other cases be by means of a stop-tap ferrule and a right angle bend of copper alloy as approved by the Chief Engineer of Water Supply.

(b) Connexion to an arterial main shall as directed by the Board be—

- (i) by means of a tapping pad and ferrule; or
- (ii) by means of a saddle or tapping arm and valve.

(c) Connexion to an aqueduct shall as directed by the Board be—

- (i) by means of a pipe laid through the wall of the aqueduct;
- (ii) by means of a syphon pipe laid over the wall of the aqueduct; or
- (iii) by means of a pipe conveying a pumped supply through or over the wall of the aqueduct.

Sizes of service pipes.

45. (a) Except as provided in Clause 42 (c) of this By-law every service pipe between a water main or an arterial main and the building line, or if a meter is fixed, between a water main or an arterial main and such meter, shall have a nominal bore of not less than $\frac{3}{4}$ -in. diameter.

- (i) For a tenement rated on a valuation of not more than £100 and the area of which is less than 1,000 square yards—a $\frac{3}{4}$ -in. service pipe; where the area of the tenement is more than 1,000 square yards—a 1-in. service pipe;
- (ii) For a tenement rated on a valuation of more than £100 and not more than £200 and the area of the tenement is less than 3,000 square yards—a 1-in. service pipe; where the area of the tenement is more than 3,000 square yards—a $1\frac{1}{4}$ -in. service pipe;
- (iii) For a tenement rated on a valuation of more than £200 and not more than £300 and the area of the tenement is less than 3,000 square yards—a $1\frac{1}{4}$ -in. service pipe; where the area of the tenement is more than 3,000 square yards—a $1\frac{1}{2}$ -in. service pipe;
- (iv) For a tenement rated on a valuation of more than £300—a $1\frac{1}{2}$ -in. service pipe.

Provided however that where the supply of water is in the opinion of the Chief Engineer of Water Supply insufficient to meet the normal demands of the tenements in the vicinity the sizes of service pipes to be laid to connect such tenements to a water main or arterial main will be determined by the Chief Engineer of Water Supply irrespective of the valuations or areas of such tenements.

(c) The size of any service pipe or pipes approved for the supply of water for any business premises flats place of public recreation or entertainment or institution or for other than domestic purposes shall be determined by the Chief Engineer of Water Supply.

(d) In connexion with every application to lay a service pipe of 2-in. and over in diameter, or to alter the position of any such service pipe, the plumber's notice must be accompanied by a properly dimensioned plan showing the locality of the premises at which the work is to be done and the position in which it is intended to lay the service pipe and fix a meter stop-tap and other like fittings thereto. In every such case the Board will, if desired, supply a block tracing (so far as the same may be available) on payment of a fee of Two shillings for each tracing.

46. A high-pressure screw-down stop-tap properly secured must be fixed on each service pipe in one of the following positions :—

Stop-tap to be fixed.

(a) Where a meter is fixed, on the service pipe between the meter and the inlet bend thereto as approved of by the Chief Engineer of Water Supply :

(b) Where a meter is not fixed, on the service pipe above the ground in an accessible position not more than six feet from the building line.

If the said stop-tap is fixed on the service pipe inside the street alignment, and it is not accessible at all times the owner shall, if required by the Board and upon receiving notice, immediately fix an additional stop-tap and cover on the service pipe between the water main and the street alignment and within six inches of the street alignment or within such other distance as the council of the municipality may require.

47. Where water mains are under wood blocks concrete or other special pavements, an iron box and riser of approved pattern shall be fixed over the stop-tap ferrule in the main.

48. Except where otherwise permitted by the Board, every stop-tap and stop-ferrule must be opposite the tenement supplied and the service pipe, stop-tap and meter shall be laid from the stop-tap ferrule in a straight line and at right angles to the water main.

49. Where any service pipe does not enter the tenement supplied at a point opposite to the point on the water main or arterial main to which the service pipe is connected, an iron box and riser of approved pattern shall be fixed over the stop-tap ferrule in the water main or arterial main and a high-pressure screw-down stop-tap with an approved cover shall be fixed on the service pipe at each subsequent change of direction of such pipe and an additional stop-tap shall be fixed in accordance with Clause 46 of this By-law.

A service pipe not provided with a stop-tap or a valve having approved reflux action must have fitted thereto an approved reflux valve to prevent the return of water to the Board's water main arterial main or aqueduct. Such reflux valve must be fixed on the service pipe above ground in an accessible position inside the building line where directed by the Chief Engineer of Water Supply, and be maintained in proper working condition to his satisfaction.

Where it is impracticable to place the reflux valve above ground it shall be fixed in a pit properly constructed and drained and provided with an approved cover so constructed as to permit of the entire pit being uncovered by one man ; an approved locking device shall be provided on the cover when directed by the Chief Engineer of Water Supply.

22. Land upon which refuse has been deposited shall be seasonably planted or sown with seed of grass or any forage or cereal crops or other such vegetable life as the Council shall direct or approve.

23. Where under the provisions of this By-law any matters, acts, or things are directed, required, or authorized to be done by the Council, such matters, acts, or things may be done by the Town Clerk, Inspector, or other officer of the Council authorized in that behalf acting on behalf of the Council, and any notice authorized or required to be given or signed by the Council may be given or signed by any such officer of the Council acting on its behalf.
