Industrial Relations Act 1979

IN THE INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS COMMISSION OF VICTORIA

In the matter of a Reference by the Minister of Labour and Industry pursuant to the provisions of section 19 of the Industrial Relations Act 1979 concerning applications to certain Conciliation and Arbitration Boards to amend their Awards having regard to the decision of the Australian Conciliation and Arbitration Commission of 18 December 1981, in respect of variations to the Metal Industry Award 1971.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the decisions of the Industrial Relations Commission of Victoria of 9 and 25 March 1982, Supplementary Payments will be introduced into the Awards listed in the Schedule hereunder, at the same level as that contained in the Metal Industry Award 1971 decision of the Australian Conciliation and Arbitration Commission, operative from the beginning of the first pay period commencing on or after 18 December 1981.

SCHEDULE

Bedstead and Ovenmakers; Boilermakers; Draughtsmen; Electrical Trade (Part I.); Electroplaters; Engineers (Skilled); Engineers and Brassworkers (Unskilled); Engravers; Farriers; Filemakers; Gas Meter; Industrial Gases; Iron and Steel Rolling; Ironmoulders; Jewellers; Nail Makers; Nickelware; Optical Workers; Production Planning; Radio; Road Patrolmen; Tinsmiths; Watchcases; Watchmakers; Wire Fence and Tubular Gate; Wireworkers.

Accordingly, weekly award wage rates prescribed in the abovementioned Awards will comprise of the "base rate" plus the "supplementary payment" for the applicable classification.

The purpose of the award variations is to transfer an element of overaward payments into the award structure. The amounts transferred are referred to as "supplementary payments" and these amounts will vary from classification to classification.

For example, an amount of $21.90 in the case of a fitter/turner will be added to the current base rate of $220.50, giving a minimum weekly award wage rate of $242.40.

It has been agreed between all interested parties during conferences presided over by Mr Commissioner Eggington that the amounts transferred as "supplementary payments" are, to the extent of those amounts, to be in substitution for overaward payments which would otherwise have been paid. This means that except in cases where existing overaward payments are less than the prescribed supplementary payment, wage increases will not result from these variations.

Overaward payments will be reduced by the amount of the "supplementary payment" applicable to each classification prescribed in the Awards set out in the above-described Schedule.

Supplementary payments shall be regarded as part of the weekly award wage and will apply for all purposes of the Awards.

It should be noted that supplementary payments do not apply to employees remunerated under a system or method of payment by results e.g. piece and task work, and additionally, apprentices and juniors, whose weekly award wage rate is calculated on the base rate for a fitter/turner and process worker respectively.

Employers who can demonstrate that the introduction of supplementary payments will substantially disadvantage their business are at liberty to apply for consideration of exemption from such payment.

Consideration of applications for exemptions are to be processed through the Industrial Relations Commission of Victoria in public hearing.

Such applications, accompanied by supporting reasons should be lodged with the Commission before Friday, 7 May 1982 and addressed to the Deputy Registrar, Industrial Relations Commission of Victoria, 9th Floor, Nubrik House, 271 William Street, Melbourne.
