Public Records Act 1973

GUIDELINES FOR THE STORAGE OF PUBLIC RECORDS

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE STANDARD: PROS 82/4

The Public Record Office was established under the Public Records Act 1973 (as amended) for the better preservation, management and utilization of the public records of Victoria. Public records include any records made or received by a person employed in a public office in the course of his duties. The term "Public Office" is defined in sub-section 2 (1) of the Act to mean—

- (a) any department, branch or office of the Government of Victoria;
- (b) any public statutory body corporate or unincorporate;
- (c) any municipality or other body constituted by or under the Local Government Act 1958; and
- (d) any other local governing body corporate or unincorporate.

1. The Keeper of Public Records is obliged by section 12 of the Act to establish Standards for the efficient management of public records and to assist public offices in applying those Standards to records under their control. The officer in charge of a public office is required by section 13 of the Act to cause full and accurate records to be made and kept and is responsible, with the advice and assistance of the Keeper, for carrying out a programme of records management in accordance with the Standards established by the Keeper.

2. Basic specifications for the storage and use of public records have been set out in the publication entitled Guidelines for the Storage of Public Records. Many of the matters dealt with in the Standard will require a decision to be made in the context of many variables facing each public office. Much of the text is designed to assist public offices in deciding how best to store and use their records. The Standard is not, therefore, prescriptive throughout. It should be noted, however, that where the Standard is expressed to be prescriptive public offices have an obligation under section 13 of the Public Records Act 1973 to carry out a programme of records management in accordance with the Standard.

3. In pursuance of section 12 of the Public Records Act 1973, I hereby establish those Guidelines as a Standard applying to the records of all public offices referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) of the definition of "Public Office" in sub-section 2 (1) of the Public Records Act 1973. This Standard as varied or amended from time to time shall have effect for a period of 10 years from 30 June 1982 and may be renewed at the expiry of that period.

Date: 29 June 1982

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE STANDARD: PROS 82/4

Variation of Standard

In pursuance of section 12 of the Public Records Act 1973, I hereby suspend Public Record Office Standard: PROS 82/4 (Guidelines for the Storage of Public Records) insofar as it relates to the transfer of records to the Public Record Office in respect of—

- (1) public records comprising a collection, catalogue or register of library material maintained by the State Library of Victoria;

- (2) public records comprising a collection, catalogue or register of exhibits maintained by the National Museum of Victoria or the Science Museum of Victoria;
- (3) public records comprising a collection, catalogue or register of works of art maintained by the National Gallery of Victoria; and
- (4) public records in the possession of the La Trobe University.

This variation shall have effect for the period of operation of the Standard and may be renewed at the expiry of the period of operation of the Standard.
