No. 2/1982

MARINE BOARD OF VICTORIA

Marine Act 1958

NOTICE TO OWNERS AND MASTERS OF
VICTORIAN VESSELS

INFLATABLE LIFERAFT RECALL PROGRAMME

A number of inflatable liferafts manufactured by Beaufort Air-Sea Equipment Pty. Limited, P.O. Box 169, Cabramatta, N.S.W., 2166, have been found to be defective during annual servicing. The liferafts concerned are constructed of nylon/butyl/nylon fabric, and loss of adhesive bond strength has been evident in inflation tests.

Preliminary investigations indicate that the seam failure is of a random nature, which may occur in liferafts between one and three years after manufacture. No similar defect has been reported in Beaufort liferafts manufactured outside Australia.

In the interests of marine safety, the Company are recalling all their liferafts fabricated between February 1979 and February 1981, which have not been serviced during the period 14 January 1982 and 14 July 1982. Liferafts serviced since 14 July 1982 have already been, or will be, tested and inspected.

Under the recall programme, the manufacturers will contact known purchasers of affected liferafts for their return to a Beaufort servicing depot for testing and examination. The serial numbers of the liferafts to be recalled are listed below. Owners of Beaufort liferafts are advised to immediately check the serial number of each liferaft. If the serial number is included in the list, the manufacturers should be notified so that recall action may be taken.

Pending the results of current investigations, shipowners, owners and operators of fishing vessels and pleasure craft, and others concerned are advised that new Australian-made Beaufort liferafts will be accepted as approved lifesaving equipment for a period of only twelve months from the date of manufacture.

The recall programme, testing and inspection is being very closely monitored by the Commonwealth Department of Transport and Construction, and the State Marine Authorities. Industry will be kept advised of further developments, or any additional action which may be necessary. A further Marine Notice may be issued when investigations are completed.

K. T. MANALLACK, Secretary.
